The Platform Built for Managed Services

Work Better with ConnectWise Manage & ConnectWise Sell

The powerful integration between ConnectWise Manage and ConnectWise Sell makes it easy to sell and deliver on your new service offerings. From the initial quote to tracking and billing for work, business management is at your fingertips. And with automation capabilities, your sales team and techs can reduce manual processes and increase efficiency. See how ConnectWise Manage and ConnectWise Sell work better together.

As a value-added reseller (VAR), managed services are becoming a greater part of your world, and you need to be ready. ConnectWise not only gives you the best solutions for running your business, but also provides years of expertise in working with technology solutions providers (TSPs) to build out their service offerings. Whether you're taking the first step into managed services or trying to improve what you already have, you'll want the experts to help you along the way.

Explore the Benefits of ConnectWise Manage

Centralized Information: With ConnectWise Manage as the central hub for client data, everyone in your company can access the same information, eliminating miscommunication.

Share Information Between Teams: Since data is accessible in a single place, it can easily be passed from one operations team to another. From service calls to final invoice, information flows quickly and accurately.

Business Reporting: Strategically grow your business with vital reports, including financial data, service ticket history, user hourly costs, and sales numbers. Custom reports are also available.

Lower Operational Costs & Increase Efficiency: When a sale has been won, ConnectWise Manage can send details about the products, services, and other notes directly to the service delivery team, saving time and expense.

Explore the Benefits of ConnectWise Sell

Quote Import: Save time and eliminate calculation errors.

Price File Import: Automatically upload price files into product catalogs for fast and accurate pricing.

Electronic Orders: Easily track serial numbers and shipping information.

Pricing and Product Feeds: Get accurate product information and pricing in real time.

Professional Quoting: Deliver branded, interactive proposals with custom options.

Cloud-Based Quoting: Import Bill of Material docs, collect credit card and customer information, and get e-signature approvals.
